

This is a letter sent to Tana Rieff, the author of The Magic Paper, by Claire Redfield <credfield@ccc.edu>. "I am an Adult ESL instructor at City Colleges in Chicago. I recently used "The Magic Paper" as part of my level 3 class and my students loved your book! As part of our final wrap-up, we wrote a letter together for you (it's attached here). I hope you enjoy it. Thank you for your book!

Dear Tana,

We are students. We read books. We live in Chicago. Some of us have worked in factories. Now we study English and we read more news or books. We read your book and we like your story: "The Magic Paper." We like that the story was about undocumented workers because for a lot of people this is real.

Our favorite chapter is twelve because in this chapter Benito knocks on the door and sees Teresa and Teresa and Benito hug each other with all their might and Teresa cries. We like when they receive the papers and are happy.

The story was very interesting and we learned how hard it is to live without papers in the United States. We don't like when the family of Teresa was lost in the earthquake in the 1980s. Will you bring our teacher more books please?

Will you make more books for undocumented workers?

Thank you for the story.

Sincerely,
English Class at Stowe School
